2. ARTIST STATEMENT:

My work begins where words end.

Each painting is a way of saying I see you.

I see your quiet strength, your weariness, your hope still glowing beneath it all.

I paint to connect instantly, human to human.

To create something that speaks before language, that reaches the part of you that rarely feels understood.

My art exists for that moment of recognition, the pause when you realize:
someone gets it.

Through color, texture, and movement, I translate what often goes unspoken: loneliness, resilience, the need to be held without being fixed.
Every brushstroke is a conversation, an offering that whispers, You are not alone.

I don't seek perfection or distance; I seek presence.
My paintings are not decorations, they are witnesses.
They listen. They carry emotion. They hold space.

If my work makes you feel lighter, even for a second if it allows you to exhale, to feel seen, to feel understood then it has done what it was meant to do.

This is why I paint.
To remind you that even in silence, we are connected.
To say, again and again:
I see you. I understand. You are not alone.

7. SKILLS and TECHNIQUES:

Chiara Magni is the creator of a unique style she named "Bright Expressionism." This style serves as a meeting point between impressionism and expressionism. She masterfully uses oil paint, generously applying it to the canvas, and sometimes she experiments with other unconventional mediums. Her paintings are bold and colorful, ranging from figurative to abstract. The key element of Bright Expressionism is creating strong emotions and making you fall in love with the textured oil.

Chiara doesn't place any limitations on her art and creativity. She paints with brushes, spatula, her fingers, and even fabric. She is always searching for a better way to convey even more emotion and enhance the environment of her collectors."
